Cor Unum & Hanna Kooistra – Plakkenvaas

Plakkenvaas

During the Light on Labs project, a collaborative initiative by Bossche Werkplaatsen, Hanna expanded her 'plakken' family. Together with Glaslab and Cor Unum, a stacking of materials and layers emerged.

Glass and ceramics have been intertwined for centuries. They are not only used to make similar products, but since the third millennium, a glass layer has been applied as glaze on pottery. Hanna explored how to remove glaze and add glass instead. The result was an iconic vase, featuring designed glass grids that add an extra dimension to the vase and make arranging flowers easier.

Cor Unum

Cor Unum is a production house where high-quality ceramics are crafted on behalf of designers and the business world, where young people learn craft techniques, and where innovative designs are encouraged. Cor Unum seeks collaboration with others by creatively reaching out to designers for new products and by establishing a smooth organization where volunteers, professionals, people with employment challenges, students, and designers are molded into a professional collective that secures the ceramic craft for the future.

Cor Unum is recognizable by the logo with the tree of life. The people within the company share a common ideal: everyone deserves a place, everyone has a talent, and everyone can contribute to making the world a more beautiful place.

Hanna Kooistra

As an autonomous designer, Hanna Kooistra, born in 1995, engages in an endless process of reflecting, copying, and transforming everyday objects that surround us. These objects have a profound influence on how we experience the world, yet they often go unnoticed.

She has developed a serial way of working, focusing on exploring an infinite stream of potential and uncovering new interpretations hidden in our daily lives. By layering, cutting, stitching, flattening, and folding existing images, she creates interpretations that challenge familiar views and result in a new aesthetic.
