Cor Unum & Ruudt Peters – Sebas Vase

Sebas Vase

In the image of Saint Sebastian, eroticism and suffering converge in the beautiful body of a young man pierced by arrows. Artists have been inspired by this image for centuries. My Sebas is an abstracted torso with holes where flowers can be placed like arrows.

Cor Unum

Cor Unum is a production house where high-quality ceramics are crafted on behalf of designers and the business world, where young people learn craft techniques, and where innovative designs are encouraged. Cor Unum seeks collaboration with others by creatively reaching out to designers for new products and by establishing a smooth organization where volunteers, professionals, people with employment challenges, students, and designers are molded into a professional collective that secures the ceramic craft for the future.

Cor Unum is recognizable by the logo with the tree of life. The people within the company share a common ideal: everyone deserves a place, everyone has a talent, and everyone can contribute to making the world a more beautiful place.

Ruudt Peters

Ruudt Peters is one of the pioneers of Dutch conceptual jewelry. Since the early 1970s, he has challenged the definition of traditional jewelry by pushing the boundaries of context, wearability, materials, and presentation. Peters is a leading figure in the Dutch jewelry scene, known for his unmistakably Dutch expression that intertwines structure, emotion, and concept.

Furthermore, Peters has had a significant influence on the development of contemporary jewelry both as an artist and as a teacher at some of Europe's most prestigious institutions. From 1990 to 2000, Peters served as head of the jewelry department at the Rietveld Academie in Amsterdam. He then held professorships at Ädellab Konstfack in Stockholm (2004-2009) and at Alchimia Contemporary Jewellery School in Florence (2010-2015).

In 2015, Peters, along with Gijs Bakker, Ted Noten, and Liesbeth den Besten, founded MASieraad, a private school for jewelry designers seeking to deepen their craft. Since 2001, he has conducted intensive workshops for international students at his summer studio in Ravenstein and has traveled worldwide as a guest lecturer. His work is represented in numerous museums around the world.
